REMOVAL OF CLOYD CAUSES ILL-FEELING

Deposed Principal Comes Out With Attack on Superintendent Allison.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Sept. 12 .- Following the removal of David E. Cloyd as principal of the Ogden high school by the board of education, much bitter feeling has been engendered between Professor Cloyd, the board of education and Superintendent Allison. Especially has this enmity been noticeable between Professor Cloyd and Superintendent Allison. Shortly after the former's removal the two met at the high school building and engaged in a fisticust, in which both were slightly bruised before the interference of bystanders. The latest chapter of the ill-feeling

The latest chapter of the ill-feeling existing between the two developed on Saturday, when Professor Cloyd appeared on the streets of the city with a handful of "dodgers," which he distributed to business men, school teachers and others. The leaflet is beaded, "Allison's Education. Taxpayers, Parents, Teachers and Students Are Entitled to Know the Facts. Should a Superintendent of City Schools in the Twentieth Century Have an Education?"

What pur-Allison is incompetent and unfit to hold the position he occupies. What purports to be a copy of a letter from F. J. Gurney, assistant recorder of the University of Chicago, written to Mr. Cloyd, asserts that Mr. Allison's name does not appear on the records of the university for the past summer quarter, nor any other preceding quarter, notwithstanding a clipping reproduced by Mr. Cloyd from a local paper, stating that Mr. Allison had been granted a leave of absence by the board of education of two weeks for the purpose of cation of two weeks for the purpose of attending a series of lectures in Chi cago on the administration of schools.
Continuing, Professor Cloyd undertakes to show in other ways why the present head of the city schools is inpresent head of the city schools is in-competent. Following his attack on the qualifications of the superintendent, the former superintendent reproduces copies of letters he alleges he received from deans, presidents, superintendents and others from Minneapolis, Wheeling, W. Va., Spekane and other places testifying to his ability as an instructor and also as to his character.

His terms are that, notwithstanding his shady official record and his great personal unpopularity in Weber county, he shall have the support of the congressman against all opposition.

Congressman Howell did not yield to Glasmann's terms gracefully. He knows that his Ogden postmaster is a source of constant trouble. He has had to defend him in things that would have cost Glasmann his office had the Utah delegation not come to the Ogden postmaster's rescue. But Glasmann has a club over the congressman and he has club over the congressman and he has wielded it pretty much as the footpad wields a sandbag. Glasmann has been for Congressman

Howell's renomination from the start.

There has been no question about this. But the congressman has a nephew in Weber county that he thinks about as much of as if that nephew were his son. That man is Judge J. A. Howell of the Second district beach. Glasmann knows that Judge Howell is not over popular in the district. He was pulled through four years ago by the skin of his teeth. He was swept in by the Roosevelt tide. Judge Rolapp nearly defeated Judge Howell, and Glasmann, with his two newspapers, controls the situation in the Second district.

Several months ago, when it was ven out that Judge Howell would ask or re-election, Glasmann began to train his guns on the candidate. He scored him plenty. He pointed out his weak-ness. These attacks were sent to the congressman and they proved very an-noving. In fact, they were at once ts-ken as an ultimatum of Glasmann in ond judicial district.

PROVO NEWS NOTES

Special to The Tribune.

Special to The Tribune.

PROVO, Sept. 12.—Articles of incorporation of the Burgess Consolidated Mining company were filed with County Clerk Gee today. The company is formed to do a general mining business, with headquarters at American Fork. The capital stock is fixed at 750,000 shares of the par value of 5 conts each. J. C. Burgess is president; J. M. Hamilton, vice-president; J. Dowe Wagoner, treasurer; and James H. Clark, secretary. The company owns the Happy Jack group of seven mining claims in American Fork mining district.

Whenever politics commences to warm up and just before the conventions are to assemble, it is a safe het that Charley DeMoisy will put on his gum shoes and circulate among the delegates. Charley came to Provo today from Vernal and immediately got busy on the business which brought him here. Charley is a Federal office-holder at Vernal, and because of his large acquaintance in Utah county he has been selected by the Federal bunch to round up the Utah county delegates and see to it that they are on the Smoot band wagon. If he finds any that are not wearing the yoke, Clartey cracks the Federal whip and the collar is fitted without any trouble.

cracks the Federal whip and the cohar is fitted without any trouble.

DeMoisy was Utah county chairman for Smoot in 1900 when the county was wrested from the Democrats, and for his faithful services he was given the position of register of the land office at Vertical Country of the land of the nal when that land district was created; in fact, it is said that the district was created to give Charley a job. Charley makes good every year that there is a general election, by coming to Provo and Utah county a few days in advance of the conventions, to whisper in the ear of each delegate just what he or she is expected to do, and it is done. The slate always goes through when DeMoisy is at the helm.

Mrs. R. E. Knewlden and children have returned to Provo after spending the summer at Spring Dell in Provo Miss Thethe Hardy has returned from pleasant visit in Salt Lake City.

If anybody doubts that the ladies and gentlemen of Salt Lake are careful of their clothes that individual should visit the new establishment of the Regal Cleaning & Dyeing company at 156 to 160 East Second South street, accopying two large store rooms, with base ment, in addition to a cleaning and dye-ing plant of no small proportions re-cently erected in the rear especially for the handling of the company's work.

The entrance is through a nicely ar ranged office for the managers, book-keepers and telephone exchange, to the rear of which are located the pressing rooms, employing about twenty women, who take care of the feminine finery after it comes from the cleaning rooms to be pressed and finished ready for delivery. The cast half of the front building is devoted to the pressing of men's clothing, which is done in a most unique way, by steam pressing machines, each one of which will do the work of four or five average tailors.

The interesting feature of the concern is the French dry cleaning room. said to be one of the finest in the country and constructed after the fashion of the most noted Parisian establishments The cleaning fluid used is chiefly of gasoline, which is refined to the proper gasoline, which is refined to the proper quality by a distilling apparatus on the premises. The cleaning machines proper resemble the revolving tanks used in laundries, the fluid being supplied from huge tanks placed underground as precaution against fire, by means of a pump that throws forty gallons per minute and drains the tubs at the same rate. Every piece of fabric cleaned by this process is put through no less than 160 gallons of the fluid, after which it is placed in an extractor or revolving wringer and then in a drving room, and later to the pressing tables, where it is again finished for the wearer.

The Regal company is now rated as among the very largest concerns of the kind in the west, and with the installa-tion of the new plant will become more than ever a factor in the cleaning and dyeing business.
